This is your moment.

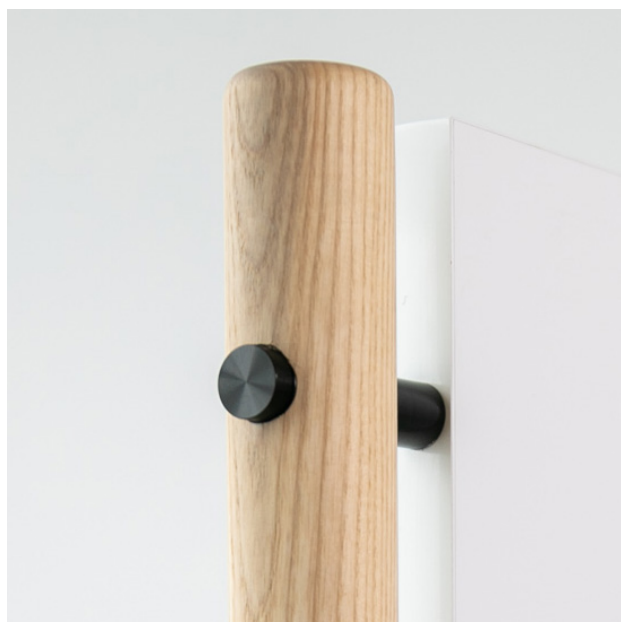

Agility of the board was a fundamental design direction. We achieved this via lightweight materials and intentional touch points. The full-length reveal between the frame and board lends to the impression of lightness, allowing for easy maneuverability with a comfort and minimal effort.

Elegant accessories encourage customization, personalization, and engagement while providing storage and opportunities for biophilia that compliment the timeless design of the board.

Natural materials such as the hardwood frame grant a warmth and comfort sought after by individuals and teams returning to the office for collaboration and community.
